Inspired by Cheekwood’s historic landscape and architecture, the new Bracken Foundation Children’s Garden offers children a new interactive outdoor experience focused on imaginative play to inspire interest in art and nature.

Cited as an enduring symbol of the friendship between Tennessee and Japan, the newly-enhanced Blevins Japanese Garden has been called one of the most original Japanese Gardens in North America and features a bamboo forest.

Now open, the enhanced Ann & Monroe Carell Jr. Family Sculpture Trail features 10 permanent contemporary sculptures including works by Siah Armajani, Jenny Holzer and James Turrell among others along an approximate one-mile path. The trail now features a new entrance, wayfinding, benches, and accessibility.

From 150,000 blooming bulbs in the spring to an 11 foot tall pumpkin house in the fall and over a million lights in the winter, Cheekwood is the perfect place for your event any time of year.

In 2020, Cheekwood celebrated its 60th year as an institution with significant enhancements, renovations and exciting features breathing fresh life into the institution’s continuous mission to stimulate the mind and nurture the spirit.

Listed on the National Register of Historic Places and accredited by the American Alliance of Museums, Cheekwood is considered one of the finest American Country Place Era estates in the nation today. Once the family home of Mabel and Leslie Cheek, this extraordinary 1930s estate, with its Georgian mansion and 55 acres of cultivated gardens and expansive vistas, today serves the public as a botanic garden, historic home and art museum.

Discover the new Cheekwood. 2020 marked the 60th anniversary of Cheekwood as a public institution and included significant enhancements including renovations in the Blevins Japanese Garden and the Ann & Monroe Carell Jr. Family Sculpture Trail, the addition of the new Bracken Foundation Children’s Garden, and National Accreditation of the Arboretum.
Cheekwood's Mission
Preserve Cheekwood as a historical landmark where beauty and excellence in art and horticulture stimulate the mind and nurture the spirit.

History of Cheekwood
Cheekwood is a 55-acre botanical garden and art museum located on the historic Cheek estate. Originally built as the home of Leslie and Mabel Cheek in 1929, Cheekwood is one of the finest examples of an American Country Place Era estate. Since being converted into a public institution in 1960, Cheekwood has presented world-class art exhibitions and spectacular garden displays unlike anything else. Cheekwood was named a top 10 Botanical Garden by USA Today, is one of the city’s top cultural attractions, and is located just 8 miles from downtown Nashville.

Events That Aren’t Business As Usual
Why book a corporate event at a bland hotel conference or meeting room when the splendor and beauty of our estate grounds are available to you? Throughout the year, Cheekwood plays host to many events for companies both big and small.

Offering a range of meeting and open space for trade shows, seminars, luncheons, executive cocktail and dinner parties, and more.

As a corporate client, you’ll enjoy the ease of planning with hands-on event management taking the lead at every step. And we also partner with a number of preferred vendors to seamlessly execute your vision.

In addition, being a non-profit, each dollar spent for your event directly impacts our growth and the programs that Cheekwood offers the public year-round. If you become a Corporate Friend, you’ll receive discounted or complimentary rental space.
Entire Campus Buyout

Have all 55 acres of Cheekwood to yourself!

For those clients looking for a large scale package, Cheekwood is available for campus-wide private events. This can include access to the gardens, outdoor and indoor exhibits, as well as the Historic Mansion & Museum. This is a great option for a corporate retreat for adults and families alike. Contact a Cheekwood representative for more information and details.
